CIS OIL AND GAS TRANSPORTATION MEETING

NEW ALLIANCES WANTED

Executives from oil and gas majors across the entire CIS region will convene in Istanbul from 26-28 October 2010 to discuss plans for and advantages of their export projects, as well as challenges they are facing when attracting investment, selecting a reliable supplier, securing a sufficient oil or gas volume for a project and adapting their project development to changing market conditions.

For the 12th consecutive year the event gathers government officials and energy experts from supplying, transit and consuming countries to strengthen energy ties between the countries and build new alliances. This year they will meet in Turkey, the centre of numerous energy routes. Being a true energy hub and having access to the Black Sea and the Mediterranean Sea, Turkey plays a significant role in oil and gas supplies, connecting Europe, the CIS and the Middle East.

To improve safety of pipeline operations, the CIS and Russia are seeking modern technological solutions. The Pipeline Maintenance Symposium on 26 October 2010 is the perfect platform for gathering technology champions from across the globe to show-case technological expertise and discuss with oil and gas operators how their innovations can accelerate the pace of project development.

We look forward to welcoming you to the 12th Annual Meeting in Istanbul, determining together the most needed routes, optimum volumes and means of oil and gas flows from the CIS, and discovering the best technologies for safe supplies.

Jekaterina Sundaralingam
Conference Manager
THE ENERGY EXCHANGE

WELCOME MESSAGES FROM THE EVENT SUPPORTERS

Dear Industry Executive,

We are delighted that the 12th Annual CIS Oil and Gas Transportation Meeting is taking place in Turkey, one of the most significant strategic partners of the CIS region. It is a widely accepted fact that Turkey's unique geo-strategic location will serve for delivering energy sources to the world markets via secure, cost effective and sustainable ways thereby leading to the formation of the energy centre.

Nowadays, diversification and thus security of supply seem to be the most important issues for the world oil and gas market, and we believe that one of the most important means for this will be realised through transport via Turkey.

The development of mutual cooperation, participation in the international and regional initiatives and enhancement of our supply security are included in economic, political and strategic priorities of our country. We believe that the future will be much more secure from the energy point of view for Turkey, the CIS and the rest of the world.

We look forward to welcoming your delegation to the CIS Oil and Gas Transportation Meeting and Istanbul.

Fazıl Şenel
Chairman of the Board and General Manager
BOTAŞ

Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of TPAO, I welcome you to the 12th Annual CIS Oil and Gas Transportation Meeting in Istanbul, where industry experts from around the globe will gather to discuss the many opportunities for development of oil and gas supply routes both onshore and offshore.

Holding the CIS Oil and Gas Transportation Meeting in Istanbul, this key industry event, contributes to constructive international dialogue and exchange of knowledge, experience and best practices.

Being a stakeholder in two important pipeline projects, TPAO is delighted to welcome our international partners to this important event.

I wish you all success and a great conference at the CIS Oil and Gas Transportation Meeting.

Sincerely,

Mehmet Uysal
President and CEO
TPAO

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- Presidents, Vice Presidents and Managing Directors
- Heads of Transportation
- Heads of Russia and the CIS
- Heads of International Operations
- Directors of Oil and LNG Terminals
- Managers of International Relations
- Directors of Regulatory Bodies
- Business Development and Corporate Strategy Directors
- Industry Analysts and Consultants
- Senior Policy Advisors and Lawyers
- Project Financiers
- Directors and Heads of Oil and Gas Pipeline Operations
- Technical Directors
- Pipeline Construction Directors and Managers
- Pipeline Integrity Directors and Managers
- Pipeline Maintenance, Automation and Control Directors
- Pipeline Inspection and Data Management Managers

WHAT OUR ATTENDEES GAINED FROM THE 2009 CIS OIL AND GAS TRANSPORTATION MEETING:

“This event offers all the necessary opportunities for presentation of major projects, fruitful exchange of ideas and productive establishment of business contacts.”

Evgeniy Bassov,
First Secretary,

EMBASSY OF KAZAKHSTAN IN RUSSIA

“This conference provides a good platform for open discussions between the stakeholders such as business, government representatives of different states and research analysts in specific areas.”

Ekaterina Kravetskaya,
Senior Project Manager,
GASUNIE

“Quite impressed by presentations. They were really informative. And the delegates were quite open-minded, easy to communicate with.”

Roman Nazarov,
Chief of Technical Evaluation,
REPSOL

“Aspects of transportation covered by the conference were very versatile. Thank you for organising such a great event.”

Dmitry Mekhonoshin,
Leading Specialist, Transport Logistics Department,
LUKOIL

PIPELINE MAINTENANCE SYMPOSIUM: TUESDAY 26 OCTOBER 2010

IMPROVE SAFETY AND REDUCE RISK

08:30 Symposium registration and coffee

09:00 Session one: Monitoring technologies to optimize and secure the operation of the entire pipeline system

- Effective solutions for challenges of collecting data from the entire pipeline system
- Maintain the integrity of the pipeline system and prolong the pipeline lifetime
- How to improve the monitoring and remote control of the pipeline
- A avoid leakage to operate the pipeline according to environmental standards

Audience during a session at the 2009 event

10:30 Coffee break

11:00 Session two: Risk assessment and incident prevention for pipeline transportation systems

- How to prevent corrosion-related incidents
- Selecting an optimum pipe coating to increase anti-corrosion protection and flow rates
- Methods for controlling internal corrosion of pipelines
- Improving the pipeline integrity management through non-intrusive inspection technologies
- Intelligent pigging: how to select and use it wisely

13:00 Lunch

14:30 Session three: How to implement efficient repair

- Cost-effective and non-intrusive composite repair systems
- Reliable subsea pipeline repair solutions for challenges associated with deep water, terrain and harsh weather conditions
- Overcoming challenges of emergency pipeline repairs
- How to minimize a pipeline shutdown duration

16:00 Coffee break

16:30 Improving safety of the pipeline operation

Roundtables

Select a roundtable of your choice to get an even deeper insight into the technologies discussed during the Symposium and debate their benefits with the industry experts.

Roundtable 1: How to monitor your pipeline without damaging it or harming the environment

Roundtable 2: Understanding benefits of a pipeline inspection gauge

Roundtable 3: Overcoming corrosion challenges

Roundtable 4: How to select an optimum repair procedure for a subsea pipeline

Informal roundtable discussions with George Makarov, General Director, VNIIST, during the 2009 event

18:00 Close of the symposium, pre-conference registration and welcome cocktail reception

SYMPOSIUM SPEAKERS NOW INCLUDE:

Fatih Oksuzoglu, Cathodic Protection Engineer (Chemical Engineer), ERGIL GROUP

Iskandar Zainulin, Chief Engineer, CNPD

Peter Martin, NACE Senior Corrosion Technologist Managing Director, CATH-TECH INTERNATIONAL

Salih Bayraktutan, Seismic-Geohazard Adviser to General Director, BOTAS INTERNATIONAL

Valeriy Khafizov, Deputy General Director (Sales), WEATHERFORD

CONFERENCE DAY ONE: WEDNESDAY

08:00 Conference registration and coffee

09:00 Opening address and business card exchange

POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

09:10 Session one: Government priorities and policies to ensure security of oil and gas supplies

- Updates on the development of the strategic partnership of Turkey and the CIS countries
- Increasing role of transit countries such as Ukraine and Georgia in security of oil and gas supplies. How to reach mutually favourable terms of cooperation with supplying and consuming countries
- Developing competitive energy routes from the major fields of Kazakhstan
- Further improvement of energy relations between Europe and Russia, the EU's largest supplier of natural gas
- Strategy for increasing Azerbaijan's role as an energy supplier to world markets
- Expanding the energy export potential of Turkmenistan

Senior Representative, MINISTRY OF ENERGY AND NATURAL RESOURCES OF TURKEY

Sergiy Korsunsky, Ambassador of Ukraine to the Republic of Turkey, MINISTRY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS OF UKRAINE

Senior Representative, KAZENERGY

Nusret Comert, Chairman of the Board, PETFORM

10:30 Coffee break

11:00 Session two: Understanding complexities of law regulations involving cross-border projects

- Legal requirements for consortia and supplier contracts with international partners
- Legal status of the CIS countries on the energy supply arena
- How to develop a cross-border project taking into account multi-jurisdiction regulatory compliance
- Understanding mechanisms of oil and gas export taxes
- How the recent Mexico Gulf oil spill is reshaping regulations in Turkey and the CIS
- Legal regulations for investing in oil and gas activities in Russia

Senior Representative, EUROGAS

Murat Yazici, Advisor to the Board, PETFORM, Managing Partner, YAZICI LAW OFFICES

Refik Tiryaki, Energy Expert, ENERGY MARKET REGULATORY AUTHORITY OF TURKEY

PROSPECTIVE OIL AND GAS EXPORT PROJECTS

14:00 Session three: Diversification of gas supplies: advantages and timelines of planned gas export projects

- Strategies for creating and using gas storage facilities in the CIS
- Why Nabucco can be considered the most economic link for Caspian gas to Europe
- Russia's major contributions to Europe's energy security: Nord Stream and South Stream. How the two projects will benefit from the entry of new members into their consortia
- Exporting Caspian gas to the EU through the ITGI Project
- Advantages and timelines of White Stream as a key element of the planned Southern Corridor gas export projects
- Opportunities and technologies for LNG supplies: construction of LNG terminals in Romania and Georgia

Thierry Rouaud, General Secretary, CEDIGAZ
Dimitar Gogov, Executive Director, BULGARGAZ
Elio Ruggeri, Project Director and CEO of IGI Poseidon, EDISON
Stephen Wilson, Project Manager, GUEU-WHITE STREAM PIPELINE COMPANY

16:00 Coffee break

16:30 Session four: Post-crisis revival of planned oil export projects

- Opportunities for shipping oil via the Samsun-Ceyhan pipeline to bypass the congested Bosphorus Strait and to limit ecological risks
- Assessing the most feasible path for the development of the Trans-Caspian project
- Kashagan: supplies from the largest offshore oilfield in North Caspian. Applying a unique operational model to solve technical and commercial issues
- BPS-2 (Baltic Pipeline System) insuring independence of Russia from transit countries
- Preparations and timelines for the construction of Burgas-Alexandroupolis, the long-awaited oil pipeline to bypass the congested Bosphorus Strait
- Impact of transportation cost on realization of pipeline projects

Fazil Şenel, Chairman of the Board and General Manager, BOTAŞ
Nurtas Shmanov, Managing Director, KAZMUNAYGAS
Ilham Nasirov, Managing Director, AZBTC, SOCAR
Christos Dimas, Director, BURGAS-ALEXANDROUPOLIS OIL PIPELINE, HELPE-THRAKI
Jens Kottsieper, Head, Department for Economic and Financial Studies, ILF CONSULTING ENGINEERS

18:30 "TURKISH DELIGHT" EVENING

A panoramic boat cruise along the Bosphorus for all the attendees.

CONFERENCE DAY TWO: THURSDAY 28 OCTOBER 2010

08:30 Coffee

EXISTING OIL AND GAS EXPORT PROJECTS

09:00 Session five: Progress and opportunities of modernisation and expansion of existing gas supply projects

- Further development of the CIS region as an important pillar of global energy security
- Current capacities of the gas pipeline Turkmenistan-Uzbekistan-Kazakhstan-China and their prospective enlargement
- Strategies from Russia regarding gas supplies to China
- Gas transport system in Ukraine – is there going to be a consortium created for modernising and operating it?
- Plans for increasing volumes of gas supplies from Turkmenistan to Iran
- Successful cost reduction strategies for pipelines in Russia and the CIS

Mehmet Ogutcu, Director, International Government & Corporate Affairs, BG GROUP
Uzabkay Karabalin, General Director, KAZAKH OIL AND GAS INSTITUTE, KAZMUNAYGAS
Zhang Xin, Head of International Cooperation Department, CHINA NATIONAL PETROLEUM CORPORATION (CNPC)

Graham Freeth, Onshore Business Manager, J P KENNY

10:30 Coffee break

11:00 Session six: Maximising opportunities and accelerating the pace of modernisation and expansion of existing oil export projects

- Developing oil routes through Turkey
- Project and Technology – Risk Management. Ideas for a new approach to large CAPEX projects in CIS countries
- Ensuring the feasibility of shipping operations and the development of terminals
- Opportunities for increasing volumes of supplies via the Kazakhstan-China pipeline
- Development of cross-border supplies by railways
- Plans for enlarging pumping capacities of the CPC
- Analysis of the possibility of an Odessa – Brody pipeline extension to Poland as part of the future EAOTC (Euro-Asian Oil Transportation Corridor): feasibility study

Necdet Pamir, Board Member, WORLD ENERGY COUNCIL TURKISH NATIONAL COMMITTEE
Nils Andreas Masvie, Regional Director, Russia and Kazakhstan, DET NORSKE VERITAS ENERGY
Marat Ormanov, General Director, KAZMORTRANSFLOT

Madina Ahmedjanova, Senior Manager of Supply Marketing Department, KAZAKHSTAN RAILWAYS

13:00 Lunch

OIL AND GAS MARKET TRENDS AND FORECASTS

14:30 Session seven: How the market tendencies dictate oil and gas flows from the CIS

- Attracting new investment and optimising transportation: the growing role of national oil companies in the post-crisis environment
- Major changes, opportunities and challenges for the gas market brought by the discovery of shale gas
- Re-distribution of gas flows. Is predominant exploitation of pipelines going to change for other means of transportation?
- Demand and price forecasts. Does Gazprom need to take a flexible strategy in pricing?
- How the role of consuming countries is becoming more prominent than that of supplying countries

Peter Kaznacheev, Managing Partner, KHAZNAH STRATEGIES
Vyacheslav Mischenko, Business Development Director, ARGUS MEDIA
John Roberts, Senior Editor, PLATTS

16:00 Coffee break

16:30 Panel discussion: How international companies assess the market and investment opportunities in the CIS region

- Main criteria for detecting an investment-worthy project
- Recent changes of the CIS oil and gas market for investors and their expectations
- What are the opportunities for ROI (return on investment) in the CIS?

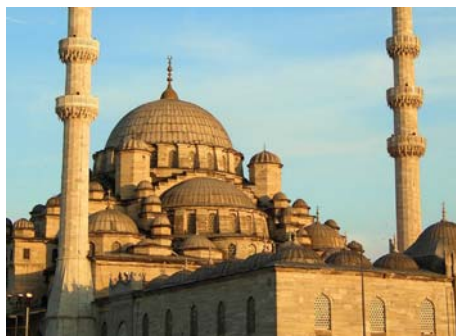

Panel discussions during the 2009 event

18:00 Close of the Conference

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND THE 12TH ANNUAL MEETING

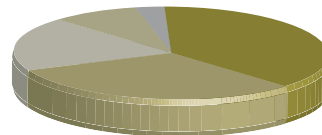

- 1 Meet and do business with over 150 executives of the region's top players, government officials and international technology innovators, and discuss current and future industry developments in securing energy supplies through both informal networking and business focused discussions in Turkey, the geopolitical crossroads of key energy routes between the CIS, Europe and the Middle East
- 2 Learn from the industry leaders about their strategies for exporting CIS and Russian oil and gas to international markets, meeting the demand; hear what officials from supplying, transit and consuming countries have to say
- 3 Gain insights into the financing, feasibility, timelines and technologies needed for construction and expansion of the most significant export projects such as Nord Stream, South Stream, Turkmenistan-Uzbekistan-Kazakhstan-China, Nabucco, ESPO, BTC, CPC and the Yamal Project
- 4 Find out what technologies the region's oil and gas majors are using and seeking to expedite the implementation of top priority export projects
- 5 Evaluate all the potential solutions for energy supplies including pipeline, shipping and railway routes
- 6 Understand the latest demand and price forecasts to determine what will be a profitable volume for export
- 7 Discover benefits of hands-on, practical pipeline technological solutions at the Pipeline Maintenance Symposium and apply them to improve safety of your pipeline operations

EXPECTED AUDIENCE PARTICIPATION

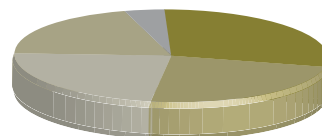

Network with over 150 of the market leaders from the top oil and gas majors, pipeline consortia, key associations, policy makers, engineering giants, technology and service providers, investors, shipping and railway companies, lawyers, energy consultants and researchers.
